

Fiberworks 2.0.2 for macOS versions 11.5 (Big Sur) - 26 (Tahoe).
Native version for Intel and M-series Macs, recognized by Apple.

A single version can be configured as Bronze or Silver. There is no Plus option in this release.
The download will arrive in your Downloads folder as Fiberworks202Files.dmg

1) Use Finder to open your Downloads folder and double click Fiberworks202Files.dmg; this will open as a folder containing Fiberworks Installer.pkg (icon like a cardboard box), a folder called Files for Silver and a folder called Files for Bronze.

2) Double click the Fiberworks Installer package. This will automatically install Fiberworks in your Applications folder.

3) Select and copy Files for Silver or Files for Bronze, and paste into your Documents folder. These folders contain the manual for the corresponding level of Fiberworks, and a folder called My Weaving. Within the My Weaving folder are the folders Samples and My Designs. My Designs is a folder intended for you to save your own work.

Important: the Mac will not allow you to Save files back into the original My Weaving in the dmg package. You must copy and paste these items into your Documents folder. Once all folders have been copied and pasted into Documents, put Fiberworks202Files.dmg in the trash. You can always download again if you need it. Only open sample files from the copy of My Weaving in your Documents folder.

To open Fiberworks, go to Launchpad (Sequoia or earlier) or Applications (Tahoe and later) and double click the Fiberworks icon. When Fiberworks first opens, you can choose Bronze or Silver level, and ask for trial mode or for validation. When Fiberworks has opened, its icon will appear in the dock. To keep the icon in the dock even when Fiberworks is not active, Ctrl+click on the icon and choose Options from the popup menu, and Keep in Dock from the secondary menu,

To obtain a validation code, please email the new program ID that appears with the request for validation. We provide validation codes when you purchase the new Fiberworks.
